

THE BECKY HALL TEACHER GRANT APPLICATION

Would a $500 contribution help you bring a curriculum-related arts project to life for your students? Have you been thinking about producing a play to illustrate the impact various inventors and inventions have had on history, but just don't have the extra dollars to make it happen? Are you convinced that incorporating music into your lessons would improve your students' retention and enjoyment of learning, but again, lack of funding prevents you from doing it? We can help!!!

The grant process is simple; complete the application and send three copies to: Michele Rusiewski, District Office, by Wednesday, January 8, 2020.

You are welcome to team up with other teachers at your school for a joint project. Please limit your request to $500 per classroom and one grant per teacher so we can fund as many great projects as possible. All the Arts for All the Kids Foundation has set aside a specific amount of funds to be awarded, so please be sure to submit your most exciting ideas!

Your application will be evaluated by committee. Winners will be announced and funding distributed by Friday, January 17, 2020. The evaluation committee will be looking for worthwhile grants, which will specifically, actively involve children in a hands-on learning experience with the arts. (We really mean ACTIVELY involved in the arts – kids actually creating and doing). They will be looking for exceptional projects and experiences, which help children:

- Learn about the arts
- Learn about the other subjects through the arts
- Develop creativity

Successful projects will have a unique element and visible benefits. Upon project completion, grant recipients will be asked to submit a written evaluation with photo documentation. The All the Arts for All the Kids Foundation will use the information to publicize your work and to solicit additional funding for future teacher grants.

This is the fifteenth year that the All the Arts for All the Kids Foundation has funded this Becky Hall Teacher Grant program, we have awarded nearly $200,000, and we never cease to be amazed at the incredible work teachers do. We believe, heart and soul, that the arts experiences that you provide to your kids truly make a difference and we are honored to help you make that happen!
